

Elizabethtown Area School District

Inclement Weather Makeup Day Information

Due to the two unplanned school closings for inclement weather and flooding (9/8 & 9/9), the Elizabethtown Area School District will make use of its pre-scheduled snow makeup day on April 5. School will now be in session on this day for all students in grades K-12. The District is able to forgive the first day and still meet the state-required levels for student days and hours. As such, EASD will only make up one of the two days missed due to poor weather. If additional unplanned school closings occur, the District will identify an appropriate solution to meet state requirements for student days and hours.
